

What Is The Goal Of The Scholarship?

The goal of the Ben Avery Scholarship is to assist university sophomores, juniors and seniors in their pursuit of a degree in a natural resource-related field and assist them to gain practical knowledge regarding land stewardship.

To achieve this, the Arizona Chapter of the SWCS offers Ben Avery Scholarship. The SWCS will also provide scholarship recipients with assistance in obtaining hands-on experience through internships, volunteer programs and employment programs. In addition, the Soil and Water Conservation Society will assist university students in establishing collegiate chapters of the SWCS.

The sponsors of the scholarship hope the recipients of the Ben Avery Scholarship will be employed and work to conserve the State of Arizona's natural resources.

Who Are The Sponsors?

The Ben Avery Scholarship is sponsored by the Arizona Chapter of the Soil and Water Conservation Society (SWCS) and the Ben Avery Family. Contributions to this scholarship fund have been made by the Nina Mason Pulliam Charitable Trust, the Ben Avery Family, SWCS members, and Private donors.

Ben Avery was an avid promoter of conservation work until his death in 1996. He worked to encourage conservation among the public through his writings in the Arizona Republic. In addition, he worked to develop and implement conservation-minded legislation in the halls of the Capitol Building. Among his many achievements is the preserve at Aravaipa Canyon. He also participated in negotiations for the Central Arizona Project. Not only was Mr. Avery passionate about conservation work, but he knew the importance of higher education to ensure wise management of resources.

The Soil and Water Conservation Society (SWCS) is an internationally recognized organization that serves as an advocate for the conservation profession and for science-based conservation policy. Chapters throughout the United States, Canada, and the Caribbean carry out activities at the local, state, and provincial levels and on university campuses. The members of the Arizona Chapter have placed education as its priority. The Ben Avery Scholarship is an important component of this priority. The disbursement of scholarships will further its mission by promoting careers in natural resource related fields.
